Builder Recommendation

Thus far dealing with the builder has been a mostly positive experience. Lars Hansen is very attentive to building a good product and having the end result be a good outcome. He seems reasonable in listening to my ideas as I am his in getting his feedback since he is the expert in his field. While this is my 3 new home build job and I feel I have alot of previous experience I still need and value a builders input assuming that he has my best interest at heart and isn't just trying to cut corners and save a buck. While my house is still under construction and we are in the sheet rock stage I am confident that the end result will be a good one. I believe any problem that may occur in the process will be remedied with the builder and it's in the best interest of both parties to resolve any problems if and when they occur. Communication is key to the buidling process with your building.

Why should your builder be recognized for Construction Excellence

Seems to be well organized in the process with lots of checks and balances in making sure all of the tasks needed to build a home are done in a timely fashion. Lars Hansen is great to work with and has the ability to relate to me as a client.

Share Your Experience with your real estate agent.

What advice would you give someone buying or building a new home?

Know what you want upfront. Listen to input from all parties involved. Don't settle for substandard work and make your builder accountable for his involvement in the process.
