Builder Recommendation

Eric Evans is known for quality construction and a keen eye for detail. His style is like no other in the Valley! I've had a home custom built before, but the experience I had with Eric Evans Construction was like night and day. I'd definitely recommend him to anyone and everyone!

Why should your builder be recognized for Construction Excellence

My favorite element of the home is the height of the ceilings on the main level and in the basement. Most basements feel like you're enclosed, but Eric's design makes it livable space that doesn't feel separate from the other living areas. Also, the woodwork throughout is custom and has a demanding presence; it really draws you in to an inviting space.

Where is the best place to shop for home decor?

Jacob at Franklin Building Supply is the best! He's very curious and listens to what you want.

What advice would you give someone buying or building a new home?
